Using Data to Improve the Outcomes of Children with Disabilities

Room: Ile de France Grand Ballroom

Presenters: Melody Musgrove (OSEP)

OSEP will present up-to-date information on Results Driven Accountability, the SSIP process and using results to make determinations.

Dr. Melody Musgrove grew up in Mississippi, the child of public school teachers. She worked as a classroom teacher, school administrator, district special education director and assistant superintendent before serving as State Director of Special Education for Mississippi Department of Education until January, 2007. She then moved the private sector as Director of Business Development for LRP Publications, the nation's leading publisher of legal and regulatory guidance for educators.

Dr. Musgrove was selected by the White House to be Director of the Office of Special Education Programs (OSEP) for the U.S. Department of Education, and assumed the role in August of 2010. OSEP is responsible providing leadership to the early intervention and educational agencies serving our nation's 6.7 million infants, toddlers, children and youth under the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

Dr. Musgrove's career is distinguished by her commitment to collaborative frameworks that find creative solutions to difficult educational problems. She is focused on improving outcomes for all children, and experienced in using data to influence systemic improvement decisions. Since becoming director, Dr. Musgrove has been leading OSEP staff through a thoughtful process, in collaboration with stakeholder groups, to change the way OSEP works and to shift, as Secretary Arne Duncan has said, "from a compliance-driven bureaucracy to an engine of innovation" that is focused on improving results for children and families.
